

SAMIR SHAH, M.D.,
F.A.C.S.

Dr. Samir Shah is an artist and individualizes his approach to patients. He gives honest recommendations combining his understanding of anatomy and surgical expertise to achieve beautiful and natural results. His clinical focus includes aesthetic breast surgery, body contouring, mommy makeovers, male body etching, non-surgical treatments for the face, and hand surgery.

MEET YOUR BOARD CERTIFIED PLASTIC SURGEON

EDUCATION

Dr. Samir Shah graduated college from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign with a major in finance. He earned his medical degree at the Chicago Medical School. Thereafter, he trained in general surgery and subsequently completed a plastic surgery fellowship at Loyola University Medical Center.

After plastic surgery training, he completed a one-year fellowship in hand surgery/microsurgery under the direction of a world-renowned hand surgeon Larry Hurst, M.D., at Stony Brook University, Long Island, NY.

FAMILY & FUN FACTS

- Dr. Samir Shah has published numerous scholarly articles in medical journals.
- He has given presentations at meetings.
- Dr. Shah is the site director of the Aesthetic rotation for the University of Illinois plastic surgery program.
- He is the principal investigator to research trials regarding breast implant safety.
- Dr. Shah is grateful to have the unique opportunity to practice with his father, and together they have close to fifty years of experience.
- Outside of work, he remains active with four children and attending their activities.
- He enjoys fitness, archery, and BBQ cooking.